I live in St. Johns, Portland, Oregon. I would like to comment that Alternative I does not go far enough. This is our ONE CHANCE to have a clean river. Please do it right. We, as citizens and "neighbors" of the river do not deserve to live next to what others felt was a dumpster for toxic substances. I feel that more removal (not just capping or letting the river "do its thing") needs to be considered in more areas of the river. More sites need attention. Dredging will remove the sediments more effectively than burying them (which doesn't remove them at all, of course).

This is the responsibility of the large corporations who made a lot of money off of throwing their waste in our precious river. I do not believe they get a "bargain" for doing this.

Thank you, (b) (6)
